We've got a chance to work with Mobile Reality for the project called 4Tipsters. We've been cooperating on pointed out concern for quality and attention to detail that company has. The process was easy and the whole team has excellent communication skills and is very organized, so we've came through the whole process without any problems.

Mobile Reality helped us with 4Tipsters project from the start to the end by:

- Business analyzing for project
- Making UI/UX design for the web application
- Front End and Back End development and fully fast and successful implementation.

It was a pleasure working with Mobile Reality team and a special thank you to Marcin Sadowski for leading the project from the start to the successfully result. We're looking forward to working with the company again and would highly recommend them for any future projects for my partners and other companies, which need successfully software development or data service.

Sincerely,
