We are company that is owning four, some the biggest radio stations in Poland. Every day we provide our services to hundreds of thousands listeners.

We've started our collaboration with Mobile Reality on November 2015 involving them in mobile related projects.

Since the very beginning, they've been crucial to not only our development process and deliverables pipeline, but in all phases of the Software Development Lifecycle. Mobile Reality brings an immense amount of experience and expertise to the design, specification and implementation phases of each sprint. We are able to work together - not as two independent organizations - but as one effective team.

Sincerely,
Paweł Kolasiński,
